Dedication

Rev. HENRY R. BAERG

During the past six years Mr. Baerg has transmitted to students the meaning and importance of Christian education. Many have availed themselves of the opportunitiy to draw upon his experience, to arrive at a solution of personal problems and to gain spiritual perspectives for life. We wish him God's blessing as he assumes pastoral responsibilities at the South End M. B. Church.

Rev. CORNELIUS WALL

"Remember your leaders, those who first spoke God's message to you; and reflecting upon the outcome of their life and work, follow the example of their faith" (Heb. 13:7).

Reflection on Mr. Wall's life and work here at College leads us to an expression of our appreciation for his devoted and sacrificial service, deep piety, and reverence for the Word of God. And in these things we would be followers of the "example of his faith."

Through extensive travel, Mr. Toews has acquired a thorough knowledge of the religious and cultural problems facing our people. Such social contact is essential to a meaningful ministry. Our President is a man of keen historical perspective but what is to be most appreciated is his penetrating Biblical insight.

Divine Directives for Our Day

In Proverbs CSF we have the following wise counsel of Solomon, "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths." The Yearbook Committee has chosen this verse as the central motif for this year's record of College life in order to give expression to a basic concern of all those who prepare for service in God's kingdom. A primary prerequisite for effective service is an unconditional submission to divine guidance. There must be a humble recognition of God in all our ways. It is not enough to acknowledge the lordship of Christ in great crises or in solemn acts of worship only. A complete trust and commitment in the whole area of life's action, however, has the promise and prospect of infallible guidance and divine instruction.

It is our earnest prayer, that all of our students, and especially the graduates of our College, may receive and obey the directives from "outer space," as given to us in the Word of God, in order to serve the confused generation of this "space age." May God direct the path of each student into a life of dedicated discipleship and sacrificial service.

Mr. Baerg's fine sense of humour often brightens the class atmosphere. Digression from the subject affords opportunity for stimulating discussions, especially when the topics are Eschatology or the Apocalypse. Both in his capacity as instructor and Dean of students, his wise counselling has helped many in their perplexities.

Determination and persistence, coupled with enthusiasm and humour, characterize this qualified musician and teacher. A personal contempt for trite and flippant church music and a genuine concern that the vehicle of music assume its God-intended place in the Christian's life underlie his teaching philosophy. Never failing to encourage the dejected and to reprimand the slothful, Mr. Martens practises what he teaches.

MOUNTAIN SPLENDOR

Below the lifting clouds
The mountains clearly rise,
Their sculptur'd slopes, erect
And silent, lucent now
From morning's wintry sun.

Edenic beauties shine
In hues that seem divine!
Once veiled to distant sight
By smoky haze, august
And massive summits now
Are cloaked in icy garb:
While mortal eyes were closed
In sleep, the shiv'ring clouds
Made bold advance and fast
Retreat, and there, 't is done!
Fresh snow hugs each jagged peak,
Reflects the dazzling beams
Of solar light and sends
Them speeding ever on
Through endless space.

Yet more.
The swirling flakes that swept
Across those barren heights
Of rocky grandeur, fell
On wooded slopes like
Feath'ry thistle down, soft
Born aloft by gentle winds
In summer's hottest hour:
A glist'ning mantle lies
Above the feeding range
Where hungry, shiv'ring beasts
Emerge from scanty sheds
Of snow—bent pines to paw
That spotless verture clear
Till tufts of grass appear.

Look, if you will!
No sculptor's hand can hope
To match this splendor. Yes,
The amphitheaters
Of Roman days still win
Our lofty words of praise.
"Unrivaled art!" we gasp,
Though time's foul, cank'rous touch
Has marred their maker's pride.
But that far, rugged hill?
Unshaken theater,
Well-hewn of solid rock,
Scarce-marked by passing time!

You say Egyptian art
Could rank with this? "Let sight
Be arbiter," I urge.
The ancient Semites had
Great lithic monuments
To house their royal dead,
But Pharaoh's skill eclipsed
By glories rampant here:
Mute pyramids of pristine
Purity, smooth—glazed
By glacial ice—silent
Sentinels of peace!

I consider the clarification of my purpose in life as one of the foremost contributions which College has made to my experience. Paul expresses well my chief aspiration: "that I might capture that for which Christ has captured me" Phil. 3:12.

"Thou hast made us for Thyself, and our souls are restless until they find rest in Thee" (St. Augustine). Along with this rest in God, comes a call to discipleship. I want to yield my all "to win for the Lamb that was slain a reward for His suffering."

In College, I have come to realize that as a Christian in this twentieth century I must be willing to abide in personal fellowship with my Lord, practise self-denial so that He might be made manifest, and carry out diligent and devoted service.

ALLEN GUENTHER, TH.B.

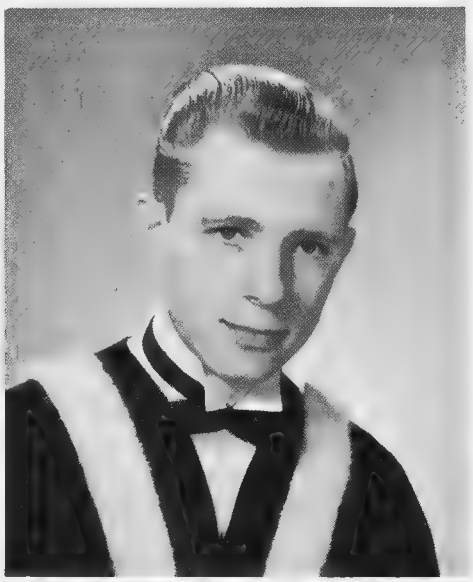
It has become my desire to fulfill the apostle's exhortation: "If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth" Col. 3:1,2.



HERBERT HEPPNER, B.R.E.

Solomon says: "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths." It pleased the Lord to direct my path back to this College. MESSAGE FROM THE STUDENT PRESIDENT

With the present-day emphasis on specialized training, people frequently question the value of Christian education. Usually this evaluation is made in terms of material or vocational benefits which accrue. We admit that there is little to be gained, in a material sense, from religious training, but it nevertheless uncovers an area of unlimited service opportunities. The vocation to which we as Christians have been called is not, primarily, a call to preparation or to service, but to Sonship. In contrast to that prevailing in the secular world, the emphasis here is not on doing but on being; not on past achievements but on becoming; not on knowing but on living.

Our walk must reflect the nature of our vocation. A circumspect Christian walk is the expression of a genuine faith in Christ. During this college year we have sought to strengthen our spiritual limbs and to rid ourselves of such weights as would impede progress, in order that we might walk worthy of the vocation wherewith we have been called. We have been strengthened through fellowship with others, have gained more effectiveness in the propagation of the Gospel message, and have recognized the need of a continuous submission and personal obedience to the Word of God.

—Harry Heidebrecht

HOME MISSIONS

Director — Mr. J. J. Toews

Christian service is a vital part of our College life and training. Each student receives an assignment which provides opportunity for weekly service. The following are the areas of our activity:

— Serving in the local church
— Sunday evening services
— Good News and Hobby Clubs
— Singing and counselling at Union Gospel Mission
— Hospital visitation
— Mission Sunday School
— Religious education in schools
— House visitation
— United Church morning service
— Canadian National Institute for the Blind (monthly)
— Marquette Sunday morning services (monthly)
— Railroad Mission (monthly)
— Various individual calls

Through songs, messages from the Word, and personal contact, we strive to win lost men and women to Christ and to edify believers. While serving our Lord in this manner, we also gain invaluable experience in various phases of Christian work.

Jesus said, "The harvest truly is plenteous but the labourers are few." We are thankful for the many open doors we have had before us but sometimes we could not respond to all the calls because of the limited number of workers. We praise Him for enabling us, in some small measure, to enter into the harvest field. And we look forward with increasing expectancy to greater service in the work of the Kingdom.

Staff Advisor — Dr. F. C. Peters

As members of the Foreign Missions Committee, we have endeavoured to fulfill our responsibilities to God and to the school in various ways. Through organization of Bible study and prayer groups we have sought to produce more informed prayer warriors. One major concern has been our responsibility to fields now open to the Gospel. Thus, our student nights have been used to provide information about the mission field, and emphasis has been placed on the personal missionary call. The Annual Missionary Conference provided an opportunity to promote the cause of missions through discussion, an informative missionary display and through the distribution of literature. During the time of the conference we attempted to reach the children of the community for Christ and for the work in His Kingdom by the presentation of a children's program.

Visiting mission workers have added variety and infused vitality into our missions program. God has blessed our endeavours for which we offer Him praise.

Besides this "office" work, piano rooms were scheduled, special group singing for chapel and prayer meetings was arranged for, and several student recitals were sponsored.

We enjoyed our work and trust that our endeavours served in some small way to further "His Kingdom."

The primary aim of the Recreation Committee has been to provide adequate outlets for intellectual and emotional tensions which are normally acquired during the school year. Our unique contribution, perhaps, was the furnishing of college blazers and cardigans for students. Weekly recreation in the neighbouring M.B.C.I. gymnasium were also under our charge as were the three socials, which served to draw students and faculty closer together as a "family." We wish to express sincere thanks to all who showed such vital, co-operative interest in our program.

Prayer meetings—

Each Friday students meet at 7:00 p.m. for a student-directed testimony and prayer meeting. These well-attended meetings provide spiritual refreshing through our sharing of burdens and victories, prayer requests and reports of blessings received in the study of the Word and in the fulfillment of our practical work.

In addition to these general prayer meetings, the residents of each dorm gather bi-weekly in the closely-knit groups for more personal contact and fellowship in the form of evening devotions.

Student nights—

Saturday evenings are designated for student nights when College students present programs open to the public. A variety of programs have been presented with numerous committees and groups in charge. Involving a large number of students, these programs have provided inspiration, information and occasion for student participation and expression.

UNRUH MEMORIAL HALL

The Canadian Conference of the Mennonite Brethren Church at the July 1-5, 1961 session at Coaldale, Alberta, accepted a recommendation of the College Board to establish a "Memorial Fund" in recognition of the faithful services of Dr. A. H. Unruh, educator and founder of the College. It was also agreed that the memorial should be in the form of a building, designed to meet the needs of the College. The Conference approved plans to raise a fund for this purpose to the amount of about $50,000.

The proposed "Memorial Hall" is envisaged as a residence hall for both married and single men students. In addition it may also provide a special reading room and space for a much-needed "Mennonite archives" library.

Signing the Charter

AFFILIATION WITH WATERLOO LUTHERAN UNIVERSITY

August 29, 1961, was the day of the official signing of the Articles of Agreement which affiliated the Menno ite Brethren College of Arts with Waterloo Lutheran University of Waterloo, Ontario. The University, chartered in 1959 by the Ontario legislature, now enrolls approximately 1000 day students and has an impressive expansion program in progress. Formerly known as Waterloo College and for over a quarter of a century affiliated with the University of Western Ontario, London, Ontario, the University is controlled and operated by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Canada.

Affiliation is the Canadian approach to "accreditation" on the university level. Colleges are accepted into affiliation by a chartered university having membership in the National Conference of Canadian Universities and Colleges. Such colleges then accept the curriculum of that university and entrance requirements, faculty appointments, and course examinations as supervised by the university. Such credit is then readily transferrable to other institutions in Canada.

The Canadian Conference of the Mennonite Brethren Church approved the affiliation at its Coaldale Conference, July 1 - 5, 1961. The arrangement does not affect the Bible College program, and necessitates an administrative division between the Bible College courses and the liberal arts offerings.

Approximately one year of arts work will be offered under this arrangement in the coming years. However, the possibilities exist for an expansion of offerings. According to Dean Peters, the intention of the Conference that the M.B.B.C. be a Bible College remains unaltered. What has happened is that the courses previously offered in the Bible College curriculum have now been brought in line with the Canadian University program.

The bright attractively designed lobby of the Arts Building leads into both the administration wing and the lecture halls.

Historic Willison Hall provides excellent residence facilities for about one hundred male students, and adjoins the dining hall.

Formerly engaged in "Dienst am Evangelium" in South America.

The College family daily attends a half-hour chapel period during which instructors give us inspirational and devotional messages. On Monday opportunity is given for recounting the blessings of the weekend. The Thursday chapel is directed by students for a presentation of spiritual needs, and, during the latter part of the year, the graduating students give us glimpses of God's leading in their lives. On occasion, we are privileged to have visiting speakers with us as well, some of whom appear on this page.

As City Hydro looks back on its first fifty years of operation, one of the Utility's proudest achievements is the fact that it is still charging basically the same rates for electricity as it did when the first bill was sent out half a century ago. Even more remarkable, despite increasing labor and material costs during these years, it has been possible to show substantial profits.

Over $12,000,000 of these profits were turned over to the City's General Budget to help reduce taxes. In addition, the low electric rates in Winnipeg, compared to other large Canadian cities, undoubtedly have saved citizens untold millions of dollars.
